To Whom It May Concern:

For the past few months, I have been working with Anna Bonomini of StormStaff in my search for full-time employment. In today's economy and with the difficulty job-seekers face in securing a new job, StormStaff has been an invaluable aid in my search.

Anna has been extremely diligent in trying to match me up with the right positions for my skill set and experience and has been successful in arranging a contract position for me with a top biotech company in San Diego.

She is very professional and personable, and always positive, even in this difficult job market. This is the first staffing agency that has actively marketed me and helped me "get my foot in the door", which is essential for a job seeker, considering the steep competition.

Working with Anna and StormStaff has been a very positive experience and has taken a great deal of the frustration and anxiety out of my search for employment. I highly recommend StormStaff to everyone, either employer or employee, who has job procurement needs.

Thank you,
